The United Nations Association said it was because they were splitting up with model UN because it was completely different than them.

Jeff said he had to go check with central station because model UN capped the account so the United Nations Associate didn't have an account right now.

Director Bittar said they did have an account because they were currently seeing their funds.

Jeff said he would figure it out.

Director Bittar said they would move into their operations request while they were waiting.

The United Nations Association said their operations request for a fundraising event they were having next week. They were already having a tabling event to recruit more people. They wanted to do more tabling and they were hoping to do it through the Reno City Council.

Club Commissioner Young said he emailed them for an updated photo.

The United Nations Association said they tried to reach out to Doughboys but they hadn't gotten back to her.

Club Commissioner Young said the picture showed their menu but it was blurry. He couldn't see the prices.

Director Bittar said if they couldn't read the price they couldn't match it. He asked if they had their heart set on doing it on Wednesday.

The United Nations Association said they could do it a different day.

Director Bittar said he was suggesting it because they could get the supporting document and hear their application at another meeting. They would have to push their event back though because they didn't do retroactive funding.

Director Bittar said they would move back into their travel application. With the recent deposit, they could only fund their travel request in the amount of $510 dollars.

Club Commissioner Young said moved to approve The United Nations Association travel request in the amount of $510.00.

Backcountry Hunters and Anglers UNR introduced their president and treasurer. Neither were ASUN officials. Their application was for a river cleanup in Lockwood east of Sparks. It was to clean up the river and get trash and invasive species out of there. After, they would host a cookout and would give away a Yeti cooler. There were no fees for entering that raffle, if you attend you are automatically entered into the raffle.

Commissioner Setnan said it looked good. Fullmer wanted to know if the cookout was community service because they would be funded for the supplies.

Director Bittar said they could treat this like in the past when they funded pizza for community service events.

Commissioner Young asked how long the cooler would last.

Backcountry Hunters and Anglers said years, maybe ten or fifteen

Commissioner Young said that was a capital item, they would have to cap it at $100. Moved to change nonfood item line eight to $100.

Motion carried.

Commissioner Fiore asked if the cooler was congratulatory if everyone got to be in the raffle
