KaPreace Young said she was the outreach coordinator and oversees GivePulse. She helps to train some of the campus departments to use it and encourages students to use it. She also oversees Pack Provisions.

Haley Summers said they were the coordinator for civic engagement which has a focus on civic learning and democratic engagement. They are Kapreace's coordinator counterpart which pertains to nonpartisan voter education. Anything relating to elections cycles, they are there to help support students. They also advise the Department of Programming and the Department of Diversity and Inclusion. They hope that everyone knows they are there to soundboard with and they look forward to working with everyone.

Associate Director Amy Koeckes said she supervises a few of the people that were previously introduced. She also does community outreach and national outreach. She also works closely with the public relations position out of ASUN.

Ally Gravina said she was the coordinator for student publications and marketing. She also manages the ASUN social media accounts. She reminded everyone that they can still take their senate photos.

Angie Granados said she works in central station. She does the hiring as well as helping with purchases. If anyone needs anything, she is available whenever.

Senator Luers thanked them all for coming in to introduce themselves.

4. MINUTES

There were no minutes to be heard at this time.

5. OLD BUSINESS

There was no old business to be discussed at this time.

6. REPORTS OF ASUN OFFICERS

a. Director of Sustainability, Elizabeth Guillen

Director Guillen said she has been converting her old plan and timeline into one that can be done whether or not the fall semester is online. She doesn't want anything to be an obstacle to her goals. She is also working with PR to create something that she is calling Sustainable Tip Sunday which is a little infographic that will be posted on the ASUN Instagram page. It's just a little sustainable tip that anyone can do, especially college kids. She is supposed to be meeting with Director Fullmer soon to brainstorm ideas of how they can make programming as sustainable as possible. She also hasn't received access to her email yet but will let them know when she gets access.

b. Director of Wellness, Parker Samuelson

Director Samuelson said she has been working on getting in contact with different communities and campus organizations. She just got access to her email, so she is reaching out to them now. She sat on a committee yesterday and if anyone has any suggestions or questions to please email her. If any constituents are asking what counseling services are doing, they have support groups on the website that they can access via Zoom.

7. NEW BUSINESS

a. Committee Goals

There were no committee goals to be discussed at this time.

b. Liaison Positions

Senator Luers said he hopes everyone here has looked over what liaison positions this committee has and which ones they want to sit on. He reminded everyone that liaison positions are just a point of contact and they don't need to have any specific goals aligned with them. He hopes if they do pick a liaison position that they are passionate about what that position does and can hopefully find some goals to work with that position to make better change and improve their area wherever needed.

Senator Romero asked Senator Luers if he could go over the positions one more time before they decide.

Senator Luers listed the liaison positions.

Senator Ramirez asked how many liaison positions everyone gets.

Senator Luers said they have enough where everyone can get one, but he would prefer everyone to have two.

Senator Torres chose Director of Wellness and Director of Sustainability.

Senator Romero asked if they were still doing Pack Provisions.

Senator Luers said Pack Provisions was not a part of their liaison positions.

Senator Romero chose the Student Health Center and Counseling Services.

Senator Ramirez chose Campus Dining and the Fitness Center.

Senator Chantiyanon chose Sustainability and Counseling Services.

Senator Stoddard chose Police and Title IX and University Housing.
